Federal Mediator to Help City With Police Harassment Investigation

The Seaside City Council has decided to use the services of a federal mediator in the dispute between some black residents and the police department.

By unanimous vote, the council voted to use the services of the Community Relations Service of the U.S. Department of Justice.

Expaling the service to the council was Angel M. Alderete of San Francisco, coordinator of the Conflict Resolution program, which is part of the Justice Department's service.

He explained that the agency came into being as a result of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and is primarily concerned with minority related problems.

He pointed out that "we're concerned that whatever's occuring doesn't escaiate to the point of violence." What they do is "try to get both groups together to talk about the problems."

"If negotiations are necessary," he added, "we become mediators and we put teeth in an agreement."

Alderete did emphasize the only power his agency has though is persuasion. They have no enforcement power and they do not investigate anyone. They also cannot testify in court.

In response to a question, he said that if any violation of civil rights is uncovered it would be reported to the city council and they would be expected to act on it.

He also asked that Jane Van Hook and Donald Likas should stay on the investigation "to keep everyone honest."

Mrs. Van Hook and Mr. Likas were appointed last week by the council to work with City Manager Dudley Lapham and City Attorney Cary Royster on a preliminary investigation.

A "in-house" investigation by the city or the police department was rejected, according to Royster, because "it would be regarded with suspicion and skepticism."

In other council action, it was announced that $300,000 in federal funds were available to the city for the construction of a new library.

Lapham announced that the funds will be given to the city if an application can be submitted to the Office of Economic Development Assistance in Oakland by August 1.

The funds will make it possible for the city to build a 10,000 square foot facility to replace the present 1,500 square foot branch.

The site of the library will be the 2.3 acre parcel between the city hall and the Department of Motor Vehicles building on Canyon Del Rey Boulevard.

The city's 20 percent share of costs, according to Lapham, will be met through the value of the site, which the city owns.

Says Young Will Vote For President

More than 50,000 young California volunteers have been promised to President Nixon by Tom Hayden, 31, newly named atat state chairman of Young Voters for the President.

More than 3,000 young Californians are already working to meet the goal, Hayden said.

"We've found that yount voters are looking at President Nixon's accomplishments--the trips to China and Russia, the equitable draft lottery system, volunteer army goals, reduced draft calls, enfranchisement of 18-year-old voters--and discovering that President Nixon has one of the most outstanding records in American history,"

Hayden was graduated from Long Beach State College, where he won the title of NCAA All-American, College Division, in track and field.

Recipient of seven major decorations, Hayden is the most decorated U.S. civilian to have served in Vietnam. He is credited with establishing South Vietnam's first effective civil militia while serving with the U.S. Agency for International Development from 1967 through 1969.

No stranger to politics, Hayden compiled 41 percent of the vote against a 10-year incumbent in California's 1970 Congressional race in the 22nd District.

Harambe Is Pulling Together

By Phyllis Ventimiglia,
Monterey

The Harambe Medical Clinic is relatively young. It was started in June, 1971. Claude Ames, Lenzy Donaldson and Abad Karin Al-Latiff are the founders and organizers of the clinic.

Today, Claude Ames is an active member and volunteer worker for the Harambe Medical Clinic located at 1186 Broadway, Seaside.

Many caring, helpful people including doctors, nurses, neighbors and young adults donate their time to help people who can't afford today's high medical rate.

At Harambe, patients who feel a physical or mental disorder come in for medical attendion. If they are ill, they are screened to see how serious their ailment is. If a woman is pregnant, in need of an abortion or if someone carries venereal disease or is on serious drugs, they referred to the Health Dept. on the Peninsula.

Harambe gets in various types of people with different problems. Every patient is treated with understanding and care.

Harambe's only financial aid is through donations. They've had rummage sales, bake sales, benefit concerts and various activities to help support their cause.

Saturday, July 22, Harambe gave tests for those who wish to be tested for the devastating disease called sickle cell anemia. The test was fast, easy and harmless. The procedure was to prick a little needle into the patients's finger. The small amount of blood taken from the finger was placed in a tube and tested.

Young adults from N.Y.C. will be distributing literature on these tests and what the disease is. Harambe, means Let's Pull Together in Swahili and that is what Harambe is doing. Pulling together people who need help from people who care.

Senate Will Continue Consumer Protection Programs For Poor

The Senate has voted to continue consumer protection programs for the poor, thanks in large part to early warning signals a number of Senators received from their home states.

Among them was Senator Alan Cranston who, just before the current recess, introduced with Senator Edward Kennedy (D, Mass.), the successful floor amendment that authorizes $7,500,000 for new consumer action and cooperative programs under the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Cranston had been alerted last May that OEO was planning to eliminate its consumer protection unit.

"I must register a feeling of shock and dismay in this action by the Administration to future reduce assistance to the consumer," wrote Carl G. Johnson, Sacramento County Executive. "With each passing day it becomes more apparent that the consumer needs all the assistance he can get in stretching his purchasing power."

Wrote Robert Marshall, executive director of Self Help Enterprises in Visalia: "In our work with families ... we find that they frequently fall victim to high-pressure and sometimes unscrupulous salesmen and are saddled with debts for things which they really do not need. In many cases these costs are exorbitant.

"We feel that consumer protection, consumer education and prevention of fraud against consumers is an extremely important thing, especially to low-income families who have newly acquired homeownership. We are disturbed by OEO's position on consumer education ..."

Said Senator Cranston, in introducing his amendment to OEO Senate Bill 3010: "The problems of the poor person as a consumer of goods and services are the daily manifestations of poverty itself: poor quality goods, high prices, expensive credit, inordinate deposits, inadequate services, inconveniences, long delays, dehumanizing procedures and requirements, inaccessibility of quality facilities, services, and products.

"There is a great need for an agency like OEO, with particular concerns for the poor and their problems, to play an active role both as an advocate for the poor consumer and as an innovator of programs to help him find remedies to the problems that often plague his efforts to lift himself out of poverty."

Camacho Challenges Talcott to Debate

Democratic congressional candidate Julian Camacho has challenged his Republican opponent Burt Talcott to meet him in a televised debate at the congressman's convenience.

The following is Camacho's full statement as delivered at the Lion's Club luncheon held recently in Santa Cruz:

"I am firmly convinced that the only way for the voters of the 12th District to make the right choice in this election if for Burt Talcott to meet me in open debate.

I reached this conclusion because of the reaction of the voters as I have campaigned throughout the district. I have been asked to fully explain Talcott's voting record in Congress. Now, you know, and I know that I can't do that. Even if I could, it would not be fair to either Mr. Talcott or to the voters.

The only fair way to have these issues explained before the public is by having Mr. Talcott meet me in a debate on the television station that has the largest viewing audience in the district.

Now, I do not propose to set the guidelines for the debate. I would suggest that Mr. Talcott select a time that suits his own convenience, and that he indicate the issues he wants to discuss.

I should add that the principal issues on the minds of the thousands of voters that I have talked to are the war, tax reform, the environment, jobs and housing.

However, Mr. Talcott may feel that other issues are more important. I leave that up to him. In any event, the voters deserve the chance to see and hear both of us discussing the issues that are important now, and which promise to become even more important in the next session of Congress."

Marina Election Challenged

Attorneys for those challenging the results of the recent Marina incorporation election say that they are going to ask the superior court to order a recount of votes.

Fred Novinger said that sufficient evidence of irregularities had been obtained to warrant a challenge.

However, Novinger quickly added that "there is no evidence of fraud or coercion."

He said that there is evidence of people voting who were not qualified, that there were errors in instructions given to voters by precinct workers and that some people thought they did not have to vote on the incorporation question if they voted for the city countil.

Novinger is confident that enough irregularities will be found to change the outcome of the election, in which the incorporation proposal failed by 48 votes.

The challengers, who according to Novinger will include all 23 city council candidates, will file a notice of contest, backed by affidavits, with the court. After this is filed, the law provides that the judge order a court-supervised recount of the ballots.

The cost of the action, estimated at between $350 and $500 will be borne by the challengers. However, if the outcome of the election is changed the money may return to them.

Contributions to the challenge are being accepted by Dan Smith, 3147 Marina Drive, phone 384-8387.

"Each man for himself, and the devil take the hindmost."

In the struggle for survival we are taught that each man must rely on his own strength (live by his own ruthlessness). And we are told that if each individual thinks only of himself and his own welfare, that the welfare of society will be advanced.

Well, we all know that this idea has long ago been outmoded, discredited, and proven untrue. This "rugged individualism" has received many a hard blow in recent decades from the hammers of economics and politics. We now know that man can no more exist by and for himself alone than we can live without breathing.

The first truth about our individual lives is the indispensability of love to every human being. By "love" we mean relatedness to some treasured person or group, the feeling of belongingness to a large whole and of being of value to other men. The source of all the basic anxieties in human nature is a feeling of being alone and helpless in a hostile world, and the first compulsion of life is the weaving of a stable pattern of relationship between ourselves and our parents and all of those who in time take the place of our parents, (the beloved, the friend, the co-worker). Even science has taught us that we can only understand the universe in terms of relatedness, that things are nothing in themselves,

Spinning Exhibit At Fair

Because the origin of spinning is shrouded in legends, it's particularly fitting that an exhibition of spinning will be part of the 1972 Monterey County Fair, whose theme is "Legends."

R. W. "Rocky" Stevens, general chairman of the Crafts Department of the Fair, which will take place August 9-13 at the Fairgounds in Monterey, announces that at 2 p.m. on Sunday, August 13, a half dozen spinners will set up their spinning wheels by the Crafts building and demonstrate the ancient art of converting wool fleece into yarn.

The renewed interest in spinning is part of the whole trend of going back to original sources that you see in the ecology movement," explained Stevens, who spins the wool for his own weaving projects. He'll be using a fleece from Castroville during the demonstration.

Today's Army NEWS By SSG R. Cardwell

ARMY RECRUITER

TODAY'S ARMY NEWS IS on EDUCATION BY DEGREES. One of the most attractive features of Army service is the wide variety of opportunities it offers to get a high school or college education.

Some of the programs that lead to college credits are especially worthy of mention:

COMPREHENSIVE COLLEGE TEST-for the serviceman with little or no college, the Army offers the Comprehensive College Test (1-year equivalency). This consists of 5 tests: Enlish Composition, Social Science and History, the Natural Sciences, the Humanities and Mathematics.

TWO-YEAR EQUIVALENCY-Headquarters, Department of Army issues a 2-Year College Equivalency Evaluation of Army personnel who have attained the equivalent of 2 years of college. This evaluation, which meets the minimum education requirement for Regular Army commission, is for Army purposes only and does not carry any academic credit.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAM-A 2-year Officer Undergraduate Degree Program available to commissioned and warrant officers provides up to 2-years of full time attendance at an accredited college while drawing full military pay and allowances.

GRADUATE TRAINING-Up to 2-years of full-time graduate schooling is available to eligible personnel in order to meet specific Department of the Army advance degree requirements.

DEGREE COMPLETION PROGRAM-A serviceman who can complete the requirements for a baccalaureate degree within 12 months or a graduate degree in one semester may apply for the Degree Completion Program.

COOPERATIVE DEGREE PROGRAM-The U.S. Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., has developed a cooperative degree program to permit selected student officers to complete the CGSC Regular Course and obtain a master's Degree from a nearby university.

CORRESPONDENCE PROGRAM-The Department of Defense also has an excellent correspondence program which enables the individual to obtain college credits in free time when he may not be able to take college residency courses. USAFI-which stands for U.S. Armed Forces Institute, offers many splended educational opportunities. To participate a serviceman pays an enrollment fee of $10, and no subsequent fees are required. For this fee, he is entitled to complete an unlimited number of courses for college credit.

For more information concerning education while on Active duty. Please contact us at 431-Webster St. Monterey, or call 372-4742/372-0553.

Work, follow, lead. That's the training program in which cadet George F. Corpuz of Seaside will be learning leadership and sound training management skills at the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps advanced camp at Fort Lewis this summer.

A senior at San Jose State College, Cadet Corpuzis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eustacio C. Corpuz of Seaside, is one of more than 10,000 students attending Armu ROTC training at six installations in the U.S.

The theme of the training is preparation for leadership, supplementing and reinforcing on-campus instruction. The sic-week course at Ft. Lewis will prepare college students from 12 western states, Alaska and Hawaii for commissioning as Army Second Lieutenants.

Brigadier General William L. Webb Jr., camp commander, said the training will maximize the hand-one-equipment type of training and minimize dull, old-fashioned lectures.

Working to achieve the basic weapons skills required of every soldier, cadets will qualify with the M-16 rifle and train with other weapons. Additional military skills to be taught include map reading and orienterring land navigation using only a map and compass.

A comprehensive physical training program will be augmented by the introduction of team handball and training in recondo - a program that includes mountain climbing, water obstacles and survival training.

The camp emphasis, however, will be on the development of leadership potential. A leadership structure that rotates daily will enable each cadet to perform in both command and subordiate positions. One day, the cadet may be a rifleman; the next day, he will have the responsibilities of a company company commander.

The 21-year-old cadet is a 1969 graduate of Seaside High School.

Honorable Loren E. Smith
Supervisor, 4th District
1215 Sylvan Road
Monterey, California 93940

Dear Mr. Smith:

In response to your request for my support, I have decided to endorse your candidacy for re-election.

I was impressed with your honesty and sincerity during the several candidates forums in which we all participated. Although we differed in philosophy on several issues, it became quite apparent that a greater number of voters agreed more with yours than with mine.

Your November opponent lacks your sincerity, and as you know, I'm an idealist in that I firmly believe that a publicly elected official must possess a high degree of integrity.

In addition, the Board of Supervisors already has one lawyer, and another as County Counsel. And since your opponent too is an attorney, his election would, in my opinion, create an imbalance which would reduce common-people representation. Your background and experience presently provides this.

This is a peculiar year for politics. Your re-election will not come easy. The marijuana initiative on the November ballot will further complicate this and it is expected that many McGovern-type extremist voters will turn out in great numbers.

I will expend all my efforts to assist in your re-election, but you must understand that my endorsement does not necessarily guarantee that my supporters will do likewise.

I'm sure that your experience and sincerity will again manifest itself with the electorate in November.

Good Luck!

Sincerely,

Louis N. Haddad

Roger Poyner
74 Via Descanso
Monterey, California 93940

Dear Mr. Poyner:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter which I sent to Supervisor Loren E. Smith. It is self-explanatory, and since you have asked me for my support, I feel that I should inform you of my decision.

Weighing your qualifications against the knowledge and experience of Mr. Smith, I can only conclude that you lack the experience and other attributes which I consider absolutely essential in a public servant.

Nevertheless, I commend you for your diligent pursuit of a political career, and I know from personal observation that no candidate worked harder to get elected than you. I might suggest that you first gain more experience in government on a local level as an elected official. I understand that the incumbent mayor of your city has implied that he will not run for re-election.

You are to be further congratulated on your candidacy which contributed toward providing the electorate with a choice. However, I intend to support Mr. Smith because I believe that he has the qualities which will retain a better balance on the Board of Supervisors and provide continued stability to Monterey County's government, so desperately needed during these trying times.

Regardless of the outcome, I sincerely hope that the experience you may gain will stand you in good stead.

Sincerely,

in isolation, that even the atom has significance only in some pattern of organization. For example, carbon atoms form charcoal when related in one way and become diamonds when related in another. Whether in physics, chemistry, biology, or psychology, we find that isolation is what is impossible and that relationship is everything. A lone atom is a meaningless atom. A related atom is the building stone of nature. We have also found that a lone human being is a destroyer of values, but a related human being is the builder of individual and social peace.

So progress is not the Self-creating society, rather, progress is the society creating the Self. We become what we are by a process of identification with othes. Specifically, we are what our fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, uncles and aunts and cousins were before us. Modern psychology demonstrates that with the milk we drink, we not only ingest physical nutriment, but also swallow the patterns, ideals, reactions, and attitudes of those around us. In fact we digest our heroes and heroines and make their way of life a part of our own emotional substance. Of all the creatures on earth, man has the greatest power of imitation and identification with others. This power is responsible both for tragedy and for the glory of our existence.

Believe this: EVERY SAINT AND EVERY SINNER AFFECTS THOSE WHOM HE WILL NEVER SEE. Why? Because his words and his deeds stamp themselves upon the soft clay of human nature everywhere. In fact, just recently it was discovered by this writer, that things said in this column have affected people we have never seen. A boy catches the contagion of courage from his father, or receives the misery of fear from his mother. Read your literature. Ulysses' son inherited from his warrior father a bravery that kept his land intact during his father's wanderings. Taras Bulba's sons had the almost godlike devotion inspired by their old father's passionate example of love and hardiness. Or let's turn around and look at Ibsen's "Ghost". There is a study of a weak son too greatly influenced by his fear-ridden mother. There are doubtless instances of identification, good and bad, found in every dramatist. Modern psychology has verified the intuitions possessed by world-famous writers, and has shown that we all take other persons inside ourselves to make them part of our soul fabric.

So, even though we understand that man cannot pull himself up by his boot straps, psychology shows us that we can make consistent and gratifying gains in the direction of love, warmth, and tolerance. The first step in making these valuable gains is to understand the nature of the barriers that keep us from a free and happy relationship with our neighbors, families, and friends.

Weel now that my boss can crack the whip again, I guess I should get back to work and stop all this fooling around. Most people have told me that this is work, but it isn't to me.

Andy says "Hi" and I say "Bye".

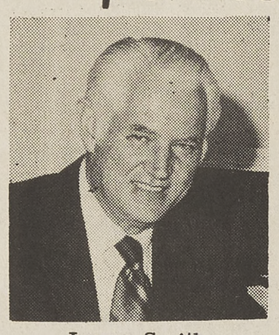
Supervisor Reports



Loren Smith

The Supervisor's agenda for last week had one item of particular interest to me. It was a request from the Harambe Medical Clinic in Seaside asking the Board members to take official notice of the Sickle Cell Anemia health problem which exists in the United States and most of the world.

Although this problem has been known and recognized by scientists for more than 20 years most people even today do not know very much about this disease. Sickle Cell describes the shape of the red blood cells of persons who suffer from this disease and for which there is no known cure. The normal red blood cells are round like a doughnut and they travel easily thru the normal blood stream to carry oxygen to all parts of the body. However, the sickle shaped cells do not circulate easily and often group together forming blood clots that cause considerable pain and suffering to it's victims.

Sickle Cell Anemia has been found to be most prevalent in persons whose ancestors came from the Mediterranean area, Africa, Middle East and parts of India. Although there is no known cure it is very important that the disease be diagnosed at an early age and this can be accomplished by simple blood tests. The importance of early discovery of this health problem cannot be stressed too strongly and victims of this illness can be helped by medical treatment to relieve much of the pain and suffering. There is also the opportunity to plan one's life and to be aware of the possibility of passing on the 'Sickle Cells' to your descendants.

It was my privilege to make the motion to have the Board of Supervisors pass a resolution proclaiming Saturday, July 22nd as SICKLE CELL ANEMIA DAY IN MONTEREY COUNTY. The Clinic expects to continue their testing program every other Saturday on a continuing basis.

Harambe is an entirely voluntary effort.

Letter to the Editor

Editor: Oh how many forms we have to fill out from time to time! For taxes, insurance, license, social security and medicare, employment, clubs, etc -- just oceans of them!

The bright lads who compose the -- what planet do they inhabit? What language do they speak? I have tried to decipher it with the aid of the very fat and renowned Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. I have had but limited success. Perhaps an ancient dictionary of Egyptian, Latin or Chinese could help. I am looking hard for one in antique shops.

Mos forms do not uuse our everyday language. They go by a rule that instead of simple words complicated ones are best. Simple English is prohibited. Always ten or fifteen words must be used when one or two will do.

Will form writers ever unravel their brains? Will they soon take a course in plain English? Will they become regular guys and stop speaking gibberish? Will they cut forms down to size? Or better yet, cut many of them out? And have those that are necessary, make sense?

For heaven's sake, why don't some college and professional people learn English? Why are they -- the form composers -- imprisoned in their own jargon? Why must they carry around with them such high-falutin' clap-trap? Serves them right!

Somehwere, I am sure, in the awful vastness of the universe there must be a planet without such complex forms. I have faith. There is a heaven.

Sincerely yours,
George Herman,
Marina

Mayor Reports

Joe Dolan

Everybody in Seaside should be interested and concerned about the schools in our City. This concern should not be limited only to the caliber of education our children are receiving but we should also be attentive to the actions of the Monterey Peninsual Unified School District. Especially when the school district decisions may adversely affect Seaside school facilities!

The school district has declared as "Surplus Property" a large section of the Del Rey Woods play ground area. The "Surplus Property" is located on the corner of Kimball Avenue and Noche Buena. The approximate diminsions are 430 feet along Kimball and 131 feet along Noche Buena and this choice parcel of land is now up for sale for $22,860. This portion of the play ground area contains park benches, barbecue pits and a large stand of mature healthy oaks. Our taxpayers' doloars paid for this property and it is a classic situation of joint school-City open space use.

All summer long this particular area is used by mothers who are supervising their children of all ages. Immediately adjacent to the "Suvplus property" parcel are the parallel bars and other apparatus for the children to exercise on. In 1955 and 1956 I spent many an enjoyable hour in this protected area playing games with my son. The 5 foot chain link fence along Kimball Avenue helps to prevent our children from inadvertently running out into the street from the playgound area.

The Seaside City Council directed the City Manager to advise the school district that the City of Seaside is very desirous of retaining this "surplus property" as continued open space, thus enabling the property to be used by our children as it has for many years. If necessary we would also like to have first option to purchase it--over a long term basis. However, this would mean expending tax payers' dollars again for property they paid for previously!

I am also disappointed that the Monterey Peninsula School District has failed to act--either negatively or favorably--regarding the establishment of Jr. ROTC at our Seaside High School. Are you aware that girls are also eligible to enroll in Jr. ROTC?

I failed to see an Honor Roll published for Seaside High School at the end of the past school year. Does anyone have an explanation as to why we had no "Honor Students" at Seaside High School.

I urge all of you to become interested citizens.

She Helps Make Loma Prieta Helping Hand For Parents of Retarded Children

H. Meredith McNutt, Loma Prieta Regional Center for the Mentally Retarded, 582 Lighthouse Avenue, Pacific Grove, states that the Regional Center is the advocate for the retarded person in Monterey County.

"Parents of a retarded child or adult should register him with us for we are the fixed point of referral," states Ms. McNutt. The telephone number is 375-2284.

Ms. McNutt adds that Loma Prieta Regional Center is not meant to take the place of existing agencies; it is the registry site for the retarded individual where referral can be made to gain proper solutions for the retarded individuals in the county.

Loma Prieta Regional Center serves Monterey County, Santa Cruz County, San Benito County and Santa Clara County. It is part of a network of Regional Centers throughout California which were established at the passage of Assembly Bill 691 in 1965. The concept is meant to provide for parents of retarded individuals an on-going fixed point for diagnosis and counseling and a place of entry for service and return if the need appears. Regional Centers are responsible for State Hospital admissions and discharge planning for the retarded.

H. Meredith McNutt, in the Pacific Grove office of Loma Prieta Regional Center, holds her BA degree from University of California at Berkeley, and her MSW from Fresno State School of Social Work. She has been a social worker for Dominican Hospital, Santa Cruz, Catholic Social Service, Santa Clara County, and Department of Social Services in Santa Clara County.

Ms. McNutt has been with Loma Prieta Regional Center for one year; in that time she has handled a wide variety of needs for retarded individuals in Monterey County. Meredith McNutt recalls the case of John J., a 14-year-old mentally retarded boy. His parents contacted Loma Prieta Regional Center when Lt. J. was transferred to Fort Ord. They wished to bring John from the institution in the Eastern sate where he had been for the last five years. Ms. McNutt gathered current medical, social and school reports and evaluated them to help decide on a proper placement. A placement was found near the Fort Ord family, and when the army father was transferred again, Loma Prieta helped find a proper placement in a nearby facility.

Mrs. and Mrs. F. contacted the Regional Center regarding their 29-year old daughter who had been diagnosed as Down's Syndrome. The parents had married late and Betty is their only child. She has always been with them and they report no specific problems at this time. However, they are both over 70 and they are concerned as to what will happen to Betty after they die. The discussed the procedures of guardianship through the Regional Center with Ms. McNutt. They were interviewed regarding their concerns and the steps they would like to take. Their main concern was that Betty make the easiest transition from their home where she had always been loved and accepted. Guided by conferencing with Meredith McNutt, they made a new will with the help of their attorney, adding a clause to nominate the Director of Public Health as Guardian for Betty in the event of their deaths. The information was sent to the Bureau of Mental Retardation Services and response received that the Director of Public Health would accept nomination of guardianship. The Regional Center has sent information to Betty's parents at regular intervals providing them with material which will be helpful at the time the need for another living setting arises.

Meredith McNutt recalls another case, that of little Jean, a two year old referred by a pediatrician. Jean was born with numerous congenital anomalies. She required continuous care and tube feeding. Development had not proceeded beyond the infant level. Parents were in the process of a divorce and the mother felt she had to work. Loma Prieta Regional Center was able to provide respite care and emergency homemaker service when necessary. Continuous counseling with the mother is in process.

Meredith McNutt states that the cases cited are just a few of those handled by the Monterey County Office of Loma Prieta Regional Center. In the four-county area, in 1971, the Regional Center handled 709 cases. Director of Loma Prieta Regional Center is Ms. Crissola Knudsen; headquarters offices are in San Jose, California, at 51 Notre Dame Avenue.

Loma Prieta Regional Center is operated by Hope for Retarded Children and Adults, Inc., a private, non-profit agency, under contract with the State of California Department of Public Health.

Plain Talk about Beef Labeling...

COPYRIGHT © 1972 by Lucky Stores, Inc. — All Rights Reserved

What's in a name? With some beef cuts, a "name" could cost from 10% to 15% more per pound! For example, you could easily pay 20c a pound more for a "His and Her Steak" than it would cost if it were labeled as T-Bone or Porterhouse Steak. At some markets beef cuts are given different names from the standard industry-used names, and then are offered at higher prices. You may have seen a number of them labeled as Market Steak, Butterfly Steak, Family Steak, Bar-B-Q Steak, Butter Steak, Imperial Broil Steak, Sandwich Steak, etc. When you check the prices, you may well discover that they are considerably higher than they would be if these cuts were packaged under their standard name.

At Lucky, no matter what cut of meat you buy, you can be assured of honest labeling and no fancy names. Our labels tell you clearly the cut of meat, the price per pound and the total cost of the package.

And you can count on every cut being tender, juicy and flavorful or Lucky will gladly refund every penny of the purchase price.

AWARDS NIGHT

The Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League held their annual scholarship awards ceremony for the 1972 debutantes and their parents on Wednesday evening, June 28, at the Non-Commissioned Officers' Club, Fort Ord, following a delicious buffet dinner.

Miss Betty Sapp, President of the League, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Neil Fern, who is affiliated with the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District.

Mrs. Mary Burden, Chairman of scholarship committee, read names of six recipients of awards, which totaled $1500. Those receiving awards were Klonis J. Miller, Phyllis M. Lewis, Maralene G. Ferguson, Melbra R. Watts, Shella L. Richardson and Natona E. Pope.

Klonis, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller of Seaside, was awarded $100 dollars. She graduated from Monterey High School in June, and will attend Monterey Peninsula College this fall, where she plans to receive a AA degree. From there she wants to join the Airforce ROTC. Klonis has had the opportunity to travel extensively, while her father was on active duty in the Army. She has been active in community affairs as well as school activities.

Phyllis, received $200, which she will use this fall at California State University at San Jose, where she will major in Occupational Therapy. Phyllis resides with her mother, Mrs. Louise H. Lewis of Seaside. Her father is Mr. Obadiah Lewis. This 17-year-old graduated from Seaside High School, where she was a member of the varsity cheerleaders, the Coteri and Pep Clubs. Phyllis is also an active member in Electra Place No. 5, Order of the Coronid Girls. She too has travel experiences throughout the U.S. and Europe.

Melbra, a 1972 graduate of Monterey High School, received $200 dollars, which will be used at the University of California at Berkeley, this fall, where she will major in psychology. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watts of Seaside. Melbra was active in school and community activities. She was ASB secretary, and member of Black Student Union and Modern Dance Club. She worked for the Seaside Police Department as a community aide and was a member of the Parks and Recreation Commission. She was also a member of the Lyceum Great Books Discussion Group of Monterey. This 18-year-old honor roll student has also had travel experience during her father's years of service in the U.S. Army.

Awarded $300 was Shella, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Richardson of Seaside, who graduated from Monterey High School in June '72, where she was on the honor roll and member of the Black Student Union and Cheerleaders. She is also a member of the NAACP Youth Brigade. During the summers she was hired as a teachers aide. While a student at King Junior High, Shella was also on the Honor Roll. She will attend MPC for two years, then transfer to a university where she will continue studies in her major of psychology. Her goal is to be a high school counselor.

The big winner this year was Natona, who was awarded $500. She is the 18-year-old daughter of First Sergeant and Mrs. Emmett L. Pope of Seaside. Festival

Carmel Mission will hold an Arts and Crafts Festival on Sunday, July 30, from noon to 5 p.m. in the mission courtyard.

Local artists and craftsmen who are interested in displaying and offering their creative items may pick up application and registration blanks at the following locations: Artist's Palette, Dolores & 6th; Studio Art and Supplies, San Carlos, south of Ocean; or contact Dick Edwards, chairman, at 624-9676 or P.O. Box 5032, Carmel.

The public is invited and no admission or other charge will be made.

Preview Showing Announced

Intermedia Art, organized by Fred R. Parker, Director of The Friends of Photography, is being presented in conjunction with the workship/symposium, "The preview showing, is August 6 at 7 p.m. in the Marjorie Evans Gallery at Sunset Center, San Carlos and Eighth. Gallery hours are Monday through Saturday, 2-5 p.m., Tuesday and Friday nights, 7-9 p.m. and closed Sunday. The exhibit will run from August 6 through August 26, 1972.

Intermedia Art will present the work of various artists who have established themselves as prominent in one medium and, at the same time, have found it necessary to explore the expressive possibilities of a second (or third) medium.

Among the artists included, for example, is the musician, John Cage. In addition to being a composer and musician, Cage has also created a series of lithographic sculptures which he calls "plexigrams." intermedia expressions of artist are frequently very revealing, as in the case of Cage, because through the second medium the artist usually amplifies what he has attempted to express in his primary medium.

Artist to be included in the exhibition will include: Robert Rauschenberg, John Cage, Andy Warhol, Wallace Berman, Marcel Duchamp, Kenneth Price, Roy Lichtenstein, Betty Hahn, Robert Heinecken, Tyler James Hoare, Michael Stone, and Robert Brown.

For further information call Fred R. Parker, Friends of Photography, 624-6330.

MPC To Stage Play

The MPC Players production of "The Wizard of Oz" will open in the MPC Theatre tomorrow (Thursday), bringing to the Peninsula one of the most popular musicals for children.

Performances will be given July 27, 28 and 29, and August 3, 4 and 5. Matinees will be held at 2 p.m. on July 28 and 29, and on Sugust 4 and 5. Curtain time for evening shows is 8:30 p.m.

Dorothy in the play is portrayed by Carrie Shook, and other leading players are: Alfredo Valdez, the Scarecrow; Mike Robers, the Tin Man; John Bristol, the Lion; Roger Starks, the Wizard; and Vyktoria Nunes, the Wicked Witch. Sets were designed by Carey Crockett and lighting was designed by Paul Salinger. Music is under the direction of Joan Swartz.

Tickets for the play are $2 general admission, $1 for students and military, and 50¢ for ASMPC members. Tickets may be reserved by calling 375-0455.

Deadline Is Near

Monday, July 31, is the deadline date for filing a contribution return and report of disability insurance wages and Report of Personal Income Tax Withheld (Optional), form DE 7003, for the second quarter of 1972, R.B. Appligate, Auditor in Charge for the State Department of Human Resources Development in Monterey recently reminded employers of agricultural employees.

Penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline, Applegate said.

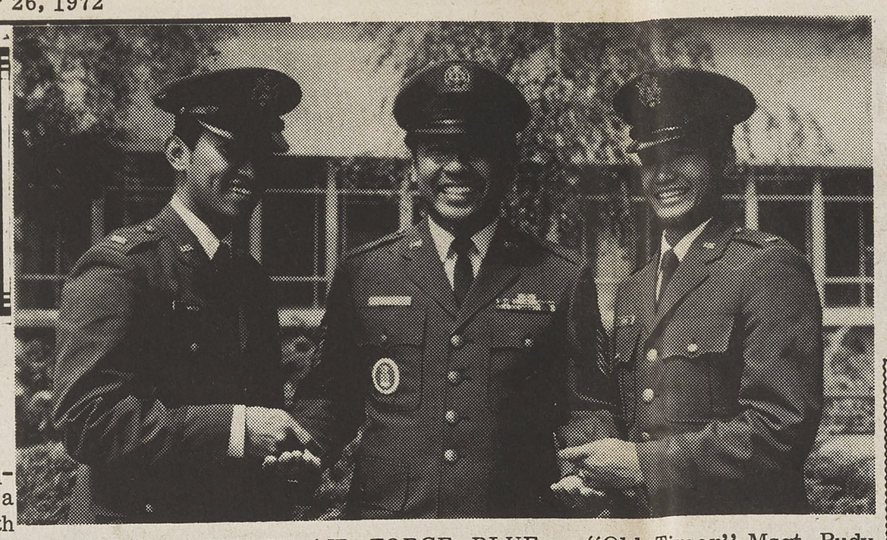
GUTEN APPETITE
GERDA OF MECCA DELICATESSEN

BEEF CASSEROLE WITH OLIVES

This dish and its variations really call for liquid accompaniment. Either a good red wine or a bottle of beer is delicious. Serve the meat with braised cabbage, boiled small new potatoes and a selection of pickles.

12 Small white onions;
3 Tablespoons butter;
2-1/2 Pounds chuck beef;
1/2 Teaspoon black pepper;
1 Teaspoon rosemary;
1 Cup bouillon;
1 Cup green olives;
1/4 Cup chopped parsley;

Peel the onions and brown them very lightly in butter. Dredge the beef - cut in inch cubes - in flour seasoned with salt and black pepper. Brown quickly and transfer with the onions to a casserole. Add the pepper, rosemary, bouillon, cover and bake one hour at 350F. Remove cover and add one cup olives (the small Italian or Spanish ones are best for this) and parsley. Recover and continue cooking at the same temperature for another 30 minutes or until the meat is tender. Serves six.



OLD AND NEW IN AIR FORCE BLUE - "Old-Timer" Msgt. Rudy Aguillio welcomes two new 2nd Lt's. to ranks of Filipinos in U.S. Air Force. The two new officers recently were commissioned after completing ROTC course at San Jose State. They are (left) 2nd Lt. Joe Mateo, 1920 Waring St., Seaside and 2nd Lt. Florito Flores of Daly City. Msgt. Aguillio is U.S. Air Force Recruiter for San Jose Area.

'Blacula'

William Marshall, who plays the title role in American International's "Blacula," will be the featured speaker at the Count Dracula Society branch of the 30th World Science Fiction Convention at the International Hotel in Los Angeles on September 1.

He will be presented with an honorary membership in the society.

Rescue Team Is Available

The services of a mountain rescue team manned by members of the California Ecology Corps have been made available to all California sheriffs.

The 10-man team, based at Calaveras Ecology Center near Angels Camp will respond instantly following a request from a sheriff, said State Director of Conservation James G. Stearns. The Department of Concervation administers the ecology corps, formed a year ago by Governor Ronald Reagan to perform a variety of conservation-related projects in the state.

Corpsmen are also on standby duty for fires and other emergencies.

Although registrations are nearly filled, with many coming from throughout California as well as from all parts of the United States, there are still accommodations available for a limited number of teachers, parents and students.

"We are, of course, delighted at the tremendous response to the institute, a response which underlines the growing nationwide interest in the Suzuki method of music education," said Sister Therese Cecile Murphy, who heads the Holy Names Music Department. "But we do want to make the institute available to those who live in the bay area also."

The week-long institute will be taught by an international faculty of experts in the Suzuki technique of teaching music at the earliest childhood level, starting at age three.

Registration information may be obtained by telephoning 436-0111 or by writing the college.

Present Two Fantasies

Two fantasy productions staged in contemporary style will be played from the Little Theater at the San Francisco campus of the California State University with the staging of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Once Upon a Mattress" as offerings in the repertory of players from the summer Performing Arts Workshop.

The Shakespearean romantic-comedy delivered in today's terms is scheduled for July 27 and 29 and also on August 2 and 4.

"Once Upon A Mattress" is played on July 28 and August 3 and 5.

Tickets will sell for $1. They may be reserved through the Creative Arts Boxoffice from noon to 4 p.m. Phone number is 585-7174.

A cast of 40 students selected from bay area-wide auditions of oustanding young people for both high schools and the University will appear in two shows. Curtain is at 8 p.m. for both.

Increases Budget For Civil Rights

The Nixon Administration has proposed a civil rights enforcement budget for fiscal year 1973 more than eight times that of the 1969 budget.

The amount allocated in 1969 was $75 million. A total of $602 million has been recommended for the coming year.

There is a Difference in Beef Grading

When your reputation has been built on perfect-eating meat, you don't compromise with the methods that assure top quality . . . At Safeway, every steak, and every roast of beef is USDA Choice Grade. Some coin fancy different sounding names for the lower grades they sell, but, at Safeway, every cut of beef is USDA Choice Grade. It is the grade only awarded to meat that will consistently deliver tender, juicy, flavorful cuts. Every purchase that you make at Safeway is guaranteed to please you or your money back.

There is a Difference in Meat Trimming

Safeway's method of trimming meat gives you more good-eating meat on the table for your money, because excess fat and bone are cut off before the meat is weighed. The meat on every Safeway steak, for example, is all steak meat. The less tender end portion has been trimmed off to be sold at a lower price per pound. In comparing the price of meats, it will pay you to compare the trim as well. You will find that you are way ahead when you shop at Safeway Discount.
